GASTON MINE IS REPORTED SOLD OPTION IS TAKEN

One of the largest mining purchases in the history of Nevada county is in the making on the famous Gaston properties near Washington. Prominest capitalists have made an advance payment on the propertie the past few days pending the preparation of deeds and title papers. F. F. Cassidy and Claude M. Ferguson, who are the owners of the extensive properties confirmed the rumor of the pending purchase but stated that nothing further could be given to the press until the necessary papers transferring the property had been dawn up and singned.

The Gaston which has long played a prominent part in the production records of Nevada county recently formed the locale of a story in the Saturday Evening Post which many local people recognized. Nevada City and North Bloomfield were prominently mentioned in the story.

History of the Gaston

The first authentic report on the Gaston is found in a state mining bureau bulletin issued in 1888 at which time the Gaston ridge mine locally known as the California and located between Washington and Graniteville, had been developed to a depth of 147 feet by a 600 foot tunnel. Production from a 10 stamp mill from August 12, 1887 to June 14, 1888 was $45,000.

The Gaston properties cover an area of 1200 acres, 1100 of which are patented and inclue 25 mining claims. There are eight separate and distinct veins on the property, only two of which, the Gaston and Gambrinus, have been worked.

The Gaston was worked last year by the Rescue Eula interests but owing to unsatisfactory power facilities the company worked at a great disadvantage and was unble to prosecute development satisfactorily with the result that it abandoned its option some months since. The coming of a dependable electric power supply to the Spanish group just to the west means that the Gaston mines can be hooked up at comparatively slight cost and put this famous old property once more in the ranks of the real producers. The property is known to have immense ore bodies but the power proposition has been one of the main deterrent factors.

MINING PERSONALS

Gen. W. H. Schuyler of Carmel, who has large mining interests near Pike City, will visit the property and spend some time there.

H. P. Stome, mining man of Allameda was a recent Nevada City visitor.

Clifford B. Calkins, who owns mining property in this section, came up from Chatsworth, a suburb of Los Angeles, and is looking after property interests.

J. E. Little, superintendent of the Primrose property at Sierra City was a Nevada City business visitor Wednesday.

Leicester B. Gregory, electrician for the Miner's Foundry, was at Bowman Lake early last week testing the power plant at the Yellow Metals mine.

Leonard Geck, who has been engaged in mining in the Sierra City section the past year, was in Nevada City on business last week.

Sheriff George Bynon of Downieville and Jack H. Lee, mining man of Sierra City, attended a meeting of Nevada City lodge of Elks during last week.

Cooley Butler and wife arrived from Los Angeles to spend a few days in Grass Valley on business. Mr. Butler holds extensive mining properties west and northwest of the city.

Leo Charonat, former resident of Nevada City, now residing at Williams, was one of the patients in the University of California Hospital fire. While he suffered from shock and excitement he was not burned.

MINING LOCATIONS ARE PLACED COUNTY RECORD

The following mining claim was filed with County Recorder Sam J. Clark last week:

The Gold Nuget quartz by S. S. Prouty and George A. Coper, Jr., in Sec 16 T17N R13E. Formerly known as the Woodchuck mine. Meadow Lake Mining District.

HODGKINSON ANNOUNCES MILL FOR CITY OF SIX

A. E. Hodgkinson has closed down operations at the City of Six mine for the winter and retunred to his Los Angeles home. He announced that sufficient ore had been blocked out to warrant the installation of a mill the coming spring. A five stamp unit is proposed at the outset to be followed by a second unit should conditions warrant.

Mr. Hodgkinson has gone quietly along developing his property fully before attempting to put in a large mill. It has taken a large capital investment but with 600 feet of vertical backs developed and fine milling ore in sight, his judgment promises to be well vindicated the coming year.

Arrangements have been made to install power the coming spring from the new line into Downieville.

CITY TRUSTEES HAVE INTERESTING MEETING

The monthly meeting of the city trustees Thursday night was productive of much good newspaper copy. The report of R. N. McCormack who had been engaged by the city dads to perform the first audit on the city accounts for something like 30 years, presented a voluminous report. He damned the antiquated bookkeeping system in vogue and suggested a new form which will be instituted at once.

His reports shows that it was not possible at any time to trike a true balance, owing to the fact that collections run from 1st to 1st of each month and report of the city offlcials are made to tally with the meeting date. The report stated that it appeared that all money collected had been deposited to the city's credit. Tax collections showed over and under deposits for the past three years with a credit balance remaining in the city's favor.

Water collections for the past three years were $47,645.40, an average of nearly $16,000 per year. There was due on delinquent accounts on June 1st, the large sum of $3471.80 which the trustees have been threatening to collect but don't seem to have the heart to.

The matter of the street bus backing around at the Pine and Broad street intersection came in for its customary hearing. The marking of the balance of the business section streets promises to get done shortly so that loading and parking zones will be established.

A communication from the board of fire underwriters containing many recommendations was read but was not discussed owing to shortage of time. The matter will come up for formal discussion at an early date as the underwriters stated that Nevada City was enjoying somewhat lower rates than it was entitled to owing to some deficiences and no one is anxious to see any raises in rates.

A deed for property on lower Broad street owned by Elizabeth Solari Barlletta executed by Attorney J. M. McMahon and one on behalf of Mrs. Mary E. Calkins prepared by Attorney W. E. Wright were approved by City Attorney Nilon and signed by the trustees.

Street Superintendent Jennings was instructed to place screenings on the Broad street bridge at once.

CHARLES SALMON PASSES

Charles Salmon passed away at the family residence on Broad street yesterday afternoon after an illness of some duration. He was a miner by profession and had been connected with the Salmon mine at Tyler. The remains may be viewed today at the Holmes Funeral Home. They will be shipt to Stockton in the morning.

74 MEMBERS IN NEW MINING CHAPTER SIERRA COUNTY SHOWING INTEREST

The first list of members of the local chapter of the Mining Association of California shows a well balanced membership and truly representative of the industry in Nevada and nearby counties. No systematic canvass has been made for members locally but this will be followed up at an early date. Nevada City has proven itself very loyal to the idea of the state association, fully half the membership of the four counties being listed from Nevada City.

Additions to the list will be regularly given in these columns.

Calaveras county reports a membership of fifty members already and promising to run the local chapter a neck and neck race.

ANGIOLINI IS BUYER IN BURNED DISTRICT

M. Angiolini has shown his faith in Nevada City by purchasing a large section of the burned district on lower Broad street and is now the largest owner in the block bounded by Broad and Main streets and Union Alley. It is possible that other owners in the block will cooperate with Mr. Angiolini in cleaning up the block from its present disreputable condition. Mr. Angiolini stated that beyond cleaning up his premises he had no immediate plans for building, and had purchased the property for investment purposes.

BIG GAME ATTRACTS

The usual lure of the "big game" was in evidence Saturday as the htgira of old guards wended their way to "the farm" down at Palo Alto. Among those in attendance were Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Rector, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Rector, and family, Misses Betty Bettles, Helen Chapman, Alice Noyes, and Elizabeth Jaynes, Muller Chapman, Warren Chapman, Arthur M. Hoge, Thomas W. Richards, Mr. and Mrs. O. McCraney and Mr. and Mrs. Francis Hogan.

Alvin C. Richards was here from Berkeley on a business trip.

GRIZZLY MINE SAID TO HAVE A GOOD SHOWING

A ledge of good milling ore is said to have been exposed in the Grizzly mine at Poker Flat being opened up by J. U. and Frank Tefft. The ledge is reported as 30 feet in width and to have been uncovered for some 800 feet. The mine is an old producer but has been idle for a number of years.

They are having a nice run of orders coming in now which is keeping the plant busy. A donkey outfit is being installed to help handle the logs. Timbers of all sizes will be handled up to 40 feet in length.

SIERRA COUNTY TAKES KINDLY TO ASSOCIATION

The meetin gconducted by state officals of the Mining Association of California at Downieville Saturday night was productive of much good fellowship and a unanimous intent to get behind the state organization with a larg emembership. Eight new members were added voluntarily to the roll as a result of the meeting with the promise of many more in the next few weeks.

The matter of Sierra county having her owen chapter was discussed and it was the almost unanimous sentiment of the people there that they will join forces at the outset with the four-county unit before trying it alone. A fine spirit of cooperation was manifest throughout.

A good delegation from Sacramento, Chairman James D. Stewart of Auburn and Secretary A. A. Willoughby of Nevada City were present as also Warren E .Dick, the energetic new secretary of the Grass Valley Cnamber of Commerce.

STATE MINE ASSOCIATION MEETING AT STOCKTON

The meeting of the State Directors of the Mining Association of California held at Stockton Wednesday was attended by Arthur W. Hoge of Nevada City and Chairman James D. Stewart of Auburn, head of the local mining chapter. The meeting was well attended from over the state and much business was transacted.

The matter of compensation insurance was one of the lead topics and evoked much discussion. The insurance committee headed by Charles S. Brooks of Sacramento, one of the best posted men in California on insurance, has been putting in some hard licks on how the high cost of compensation insurance can be reduced to a level more in keeping with rates in other states and its report was listened to with a great deal of interest. It is expected that the state association will shortly be able to offer a plan of insuring which will insure to the great benefit of the mining companies and individuals who have had to submit to unreasonable increases the past few years.

J. C. Kemp Van Ee of Mariposa was elected president of the state association succeeding James M. Hill of San Francisco. Kemp Van Ee while a young man is well known in the mining industry and has made a creditable showing in his operations on the lower Mother Lode.

Information on the various chapters being formed throughout the mining sections of the state was given and shows that the new organization is forging steadly ahead in its membership campaign. The amalgamation of the Northern California Mining Association comprising a large membership in Shasta, Trinity and Siskiyou counties, has already added more than 125 members to the state association roll. The northern group has been well organized for some years and its members have been among the earliest and strongest boosters for the state association. It was at one of their recent meetings when the state association idea was formally launched.

The state association proposes to organize a mutual insurance corporation at once and sign up the operators with the expectation that the present prohibitive rate of $9.42 per $100 of payroll will be greatly reduced. This office possesses a complete synopsis of the findings of the compensation insurance findings and this is available to any interested persons for perusal, the only restriction being that it cannot be loaned from the office, it being our only copy.

TWIN SISTER CUTS NEW ORE SHOOT IN THE 2 LEVEL

Power from the new Alleghany-Spanih mine transmission line was turned on Wednesday morning at the Twin Sister mine and fifteen minutes later the machine drills were running on the new power service. Two shifts are to be employed in the No. 3 tunnel which is now in 1070 feet. Some time since it was stated that the tunnel was in over 1100 feet which was in error due to transposed figures.

A new ore shoot which gives considerable promise has been opened up in the face of No. 2 tunnel 1600 feet from the adit. The shoot is 2½ feet wide at present and showing signs of increasing width a it is opened up. The width between walls at this point is four feet. There are 3g0 feet of backs and if the shoot shows size will prove a valuable find for the operators.

Stringers are showing in the face of the No. 3 tonnel which will be pushed to its objective now that ample power is available. The previous water and diesel combination was not satisfortory for continuous operations.

President Ray O. Foster of Ukiah and Director Charles Miller of Geyserville were in town Thursday with some fine looking specimens taken from the new shoot and which show plenty of mineralization. Foster has been up at the property superintending the power hook up for some time past.

NEW SHAFT BEING SUNK AT THE PRIMROSE MINE

Development work at the Primrose mine at Sierra City is progressing steadily. Surface works to take care of winter operations have been completed and include a new bunk house and new shaft house, the latter 45 by 50 feet in size.

Sinking is in progress on a new ore shoot and has reached a depth of 100 feet. It is expected to continue sinking 250 feet more and at this depth drifts will be run and at upper levels to block out the ore. The shaft is a two compartment affair and is solidly constructed. Crosscutting is in progress as sinking continues so as to keep contact with the ore shoot. It is proposed to run a drift on the 350 level for 450 feet to cut under old caved shallow stopes and will give backs at these points, 110 to 280 feet deeper than any previous workings. The old shafts only went down to the 150 level. The old stopes show good ore and good walls so that indications are good for opening up a large bdy of good milling ore.

Five stamps of the mill are being put in shape for making test runs. A new dam has been put in Hog Canyon and a new water system installed. A sawmill is being operated on the property, getting out timbers and lumber for the underground and suface needs. There is an exclient stand of timber on the property.

There are 11 to 13 claims in the property which is under bond to the J. F. Burkhard interests of Los Angeles. The Primrose has a past production of $600,000 credited to it. Seattle interests had a bond on the property until last spring which they relinquished and the present operators have had the property since last July.

J. E. Little is superintendent in charge of operations.

WILLIAM HICKESON BURIED

EDITORIAL THANKSGIVING DAY

By Ruth Mezgar

October 1621 with Indians as guests of honor, the tables filled with game, fruits, cornbread and vegetables, the Pilgrim Fathers celebrated the first autumn of the exiles in their new home.

Many of the Indians joined in the three days of feasting. There were many turkeys, for the fowlers found "great store" in the now Thanksgiving bird in the neighborhood of Plymouth. But in this old account there is no record to show that this day was set apart for giving thanks.

The year following the harvest festival was filled with misfortune and the colonists held no autumn feast. Horrible rains and winds soon came covering all the crops. A day for special prayer was followed by a day of long refreshing rain, and at the same time a ship, loaded with friends and supplies was sighted. So the governor appointed a special day for "public thanksgiving". But this also was different from the present Thanksgiving Day, for we find no account that tells of feasting following the long church services.

President Lincoln issued a proclamation in which he "appointed and set aside" the last Thursday in November for Thanksgiving Day.

SCHOOL SPORTS

By Vernon Gleason

The members of our student body should get behind our sports. At present there are about thirty boys out for basketball .Where are the rest of the students? Are they doing anything for the interest of our sports? They aren't in the rooting section cheering for our teams. We need interest for our sports. Will you not as a student body cooperate in developing it? Do not forget the friendly competition which is a part of these games and an important element of good school spirit. Don't you like to see your teams come off victorious? Your support is a vital factor in the success of your teams. If all act together in creating a new interest in the success of your teams, if all act together in creating a new interest in our school sports, our season will go over big.

ASSEMBLY

At an assembly held Friday morning, October 15, Nadine Sutton gave a report on a talk entitled "Salesmanship" by Coleman Cox highest paid salesman in the United States. He said that there was a great opportunity for young men in this field. That most important qualifications necessary for a salesman were stick-to-it-ive-ness, self confidence, morality and congeniality.

This is the first of a series of talks broadcast every Tuesday afternoon by successful men in every vocation. Miss Sutton listened in over Mr. Wilson's radio. She was assisted in taking notes by Lena Ghidotti, shorthand student. A topic will be assigned to a differen student each week.

BASKETBALL GAMES

By Genevieve Evans

Let's have more town people attend the basketball games. There are several reasons why we should have larger crowds at the games.

First of all, if there is a large crowd the players will have a greater desire to win. They will feel that the people are interested in them and will be disappointed if they lose. The boys practice long and hard before a game and should have some reward for it.

Another reason is that a scant crowd shows poor sportsmanship on the part of the town. Almost every other town turns out in large numbers to their basketball games. I know that everyone wishes our town to be equal in sportsmanship with any other town.

Also, the school needs the money or we will become financially embarrassed. The money is used for needed purposes. The price is small and the enjoyment is great.

After all, the games are given for the town's amusement. And what could anyone enjoy more than a basketball game? Every moment is filled with excitement, The air is filled with yells and songs. When the game is ended, you will feel that neither your time nor your money has been wasted, so let's consider these reasons and next game let's all turn out.

A's vs. BASEBALL CLUB

Thursday, November 14, Purple and Gold "A" team suffered their first loss in the Grass Valley Community League. The score was 21-18.

These games are not counted in with the regular games of the N. C. H. S. basketball season Coach Pedersen merely entered his teams in this league for practice and from now on the sub A's are to play these games and also to sub in the regular game.

N C. vs. PART TIME HIGH

Thursday, November 21, the N. C. H. S., "A" and "B" teams traveled to Sacramento where they played the Part Time High School of the Capital City. The Capital boys lost both games to the Purple and Golds. The "A" score was 33-36 while the "B" score was 30-18. Coach Pedersen said that both Purple and Gold teams showed speed and team work and were superior to the Part Time throughout the game in these two factors.

James C. Tyrrell joined his wife and Mr. and Mrs. John Rhodes in San Francisco and they proceeded to take in the game at Palo Alto.

HONOR ROLL

Two Seniors, Nadine Sutton and Catherine Davis, and two Freshmen, Norma Kessler and Warren Chapman, are on the honor roll for the last six weeks. It was a big surprise to find that no Juniors or Sophomores received the necessary merits to obtain admission to the society, but it is hoped, however, that the same will not be said about them for the next six weeks.

To belong to the Honor Society a student must make three A's and one B. This will give him the necessary amount of credits for admission to the society.

PROGRAM POSTPONED

The Juniors of the Nevada City High School were to give a play on Wednesday, November 20. Owing to the illness of several persons on the cast it was necessary to postpone the program until after Thanksgiving.

THANKSGIVING VACATION

Several of the teachers are spending their Thanksgiving vacation in the bay region Miss Thelma Leschinsky at Oakland, Miss Anne Whelan at Berkeley, and Miss Agnes O'Neill at her home in San Jose. Mrs. Ruth Hulen is planning to spend her vacation in San Diego, Miss Mabel F. Main, Mr. B. F. Wilson, Mr. C. E Pedersen and Mr. H. E. Kjorlie are spending their vacations in Nevada City.

ABSENCE EXCUSES

Some pupils who have been absent have been failing to bring in written excuses signed by their parents, stating the reason for the absences. It is quite imperative that the pupils have these excuses upon their return so that admittance slips can be iued to them for their entrance into their classes.

It is requested that parents see to it that pupils bring these written excuses the day following the absence.

The State Board of Education authorizes the school to require satisfactory explanation from the parents or guardians of the pupils either in person or by written note in all cases of absence from session or part of a session of a schoo day. Such explanation is required the following day.

GAME POSTPONED

On Thursday, November 21, a baseball game was planned to take place between the Junior and Senior girls of the Nevada City High School. Since so many of the girls have been vaccinated and are unable to play it, was necessary to postpone the game to some future date.

Willard Nankervis of Sacramento spent the week end in Grass Valley.

A's vs. FOOTBALL CLUB

Tuesday, November 19, second A team went to Grass Valley to play the Football Club in the Grass Valley Community League. The second A team did well to hold the pigskinners to a score of 14-11. Coach Pedersen is going to run the second A team into all these Community League games to save the varsity players for the regular games of the season.

E. E. Barker of Salt Lake City is viting Mr. and Mrs. B. A Penhall. Barker has been in London recently on mining business.

E. H. Hocking and son, Bob, attended the big game and visited in Oakland a few days, recently.

QUILL

At a meeting held Thursday noon, the Senior Class decided to use "Nature" for the theme of the Quill this year. The class thought that this theme could be well worked out by using pictures of the beautiful secenery around Nevada City. It will make the book a strictly local book.

Mr. Kjorlie and Mr. Wilson will handle the financing of the Quill and Miss Main of the English department will be responsible for the literary and editorial work. They will be assisted by the Quill staff.

VALUATION OF MINES IS IS IMPORTANT FEATURE

(By Howard H. Fields, Ore Purchasing Agent, A. S. & R. Co. in Mining Review)

The valuation is an exceedingly important part in the examination of prospects which, with their discovery, constitutes the first step in the buiness of mining. The Businecc of mining is one of the most important branches of the great general business in which all Americans are interested and engaged. Business, as generally understood by men engaged in it, is fair and decent trade or barter with a legitimate profit to both sides. "Good business" as so known has been part of all the business of mining for years excepting perhaps that part pertaining to the purchasing of prospects. Certainly any such admittedly successful practice of good buisness can be applied to a valuation of prospects for a basis of purchase.

The present situation in mining in the United States may be summed up in the statement that the demand for good properties greatly exceeds the supply. While mines of the first rank will undoubtedly be discovered from time to time, it is probably true that a great portion of deposits having outcrops of commercial grade or of evident promise have already been recognized and explored.

A review of mining conditions over long periods shows that the rich discoveries belong to pioneer days, and that as time goes on the more important developments are the result of efficient business principles such as lower working costs, improved metallurgical processes and an increasing knowledge of economical geology. Coupled with these factors must be a willingness on the part of the owner of the prospect to deal on a business basis to give th eprospect the chance it deerves to become a mine.

The first questions that appear in examining a prospect is "What chance is there to make a mine of this prospect?" Good business demands that all the data and information on the particular prospect and on the district should be collected. Heresay information should be checked and the reliable portion put into writing. Titles, maps, assays and reports, if any, are important.

Usually the owner of the prospect does not appreciate the value of this miscellaneous information. He can collect itwith greater ease than can the examining engineer. Usually a poor prospect with an abundance of such material presented in business like form receives more consideration than a good one presented without the supporting information.

The presentation of the prospect to capital represented by individuals or the larger mining companies is an important step. Due to the scarcity of developed and partially developed mines the larger mining companies are faced today with the necessity of considering prospects for their future expansion. Their former attitude has changed and prospects are given for more consideration than ever before. Capital is willing and even anxious to consider prospects on good business bases. The owners of prospects should be willing to meet them on this legitimate ground.

Assuming the preliminary steps, consideration of location, geology, assays, etc., are concluded satisfactorily, there comes the important matter of terms and into this necessarily the valuation enters and good business should be the basis of negotiations on both sides.

The owner, dicoverer perhaps, of the prospect rightfully believes it to be valuable. The prospective purchaser grants as much when he examines it. The situation in general is to arrive at a fair valuation, including development work, payments, etc., between the owner of the potential mine and capital.

The owner of the prospect having perhaps spent years on the ground is often blinded to its immediate value because he has been too close to it to have proper prospective. He must realize capital expects him to havt enough faith in the prospect to be willing to receive payments for his time and work after, and as, ore is indicated and blocked out. Capital is normally unwilling, and justly so, to pay for the privilege of developing a prospect. It is sufficent that they are willing to devote the services of its engineers and geologists and to risk their money in the hope that a mine can be developed. The days of fabulous cash purchases of prospects have gone and only recur occasionally in boom camps which are rarer and rarer.

There are many and varied methods of interesting capital in prospects. The option to purchase with deferred payments and agreement to do a certain amount of work is the most common. Ofttn capital agrees to furnish the moneys for development and receives a controlling interest for such moneys. There are many ways of arranging such deals but they usually have, as a basis, capital directing the spending of the money and eventually controlling the management of the property. This may seem harsh to the owner but, assuming he has interested a successful mining company, hi property is being developed by a successful organization.

They furnish brains as well as money and their fairness must be accepted else they would have followed the way of all sharps and crooks to oblivion. When the owner holds a minor interest he must realize that capital can only be repaid by a success and in this success he participates with the capital.

Mining capital has been brought together by the use of good business methods. It seems fair to assume these same methods will be successful if applied to all the branches of mining including the vauation of prospects. We all realize that for mining companies to continue to live, prospects must be developed to replace wasting mines. Both owners of prospects and capital have a mutual object and the business of mining can be greatly advanced to their mutual advantage by accepting the introduction of good business methods into the valuation of prospects.

FRENCH CORRAL ITEMS

FRENCH CORRAL, Nov. 23, (Special to The Nugget)— Well, another week of November rolls by and leaves us dryer than ever. A disagreeable north wind has been adding its services in contribution to the drysess. Well, we have settled down to a spirit of resignation and content ourselves with the old saying, "Nothing so bad, but it might be worse".

We have been so busy with plans and work for the Big Dance to be given by the S. J. R. W. U. A. at Log Cabin resort on the night of November 27th that we haven't found time for much else. And right here we will extend thanks in our sincere appreciation of all the contributions which we have already received toward this benefit. Perhaps but few realize and appreciate what work it means to get up a dance, and then to have it turn out a financial failure, is certainly disheartening. We hope for best rtsults from Nov. 27th.

Then the plans for Thanksgiving, that great American holiday in which every heart should be filled with thankfulness and brotherly love and our prayers may ascend to our Heavenly Father, in thanks for the grace of Charity bestowed upon us.

In French Corral, we are all happy over the safe return, from far off Nome, of our esteemed citizen, Mr. Ernest Sutherland. Those long journeys are always attended with hazard. However, Mr. Sutherland is a thorough "sourdough", having spent seventeen successive years in that country.

The week was enlivened by a whist party the second of a series to be given by Mrs. Schwartz. It goes without saying, that it was a most enjoyable event. Eight tables were played and first honors went to Mrs. J. W. Culver, and Mr. R. Widner. Second or consolation ti Mrs. F. S. Wood, and Mr. Morrison. The decorations featuring the Thanksgiving season, and Mrs. Schwartz is certainly an artist in the decorative line, and her pupils closely follow their teacher's taste, and are all very helpful.

Bright, and graceful little Irene Browning did the "unching". Now don't think Irene is a pugilist. She is the reigning little queen in a family with six brothers, and a favorite with everyone. Those from outside who attended the Whist Party, were, Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Woodand little son, Carl, Mr. Morrison, Mr. Van Horn, Mrs. F. Reader, and daughters ,Misses Ursula, Mildred and Esther of Sweetland; Mrs. Wm. Kohler, Bob Kohler, Wm. Kohler, Mr. H. Beroth, and Mr. J. Mchelson of Newtown.

Mrs. J. Widner and son, Royal of Pleasant Valley; Mr. and Mrs. R McNamara of Tyler and Miss Theresa 'Conner and brother, Michael O'Conner of Birchville.

Delicious refreshments were served after the game ended and all voted a very happy time.

Columbia Parlor, No. 70, N. D. G. W. held a meeting Friday afternoon.

Miss Louise Moulton came from North Bloomfield to spend the week end at her home in French Corral. She returned to North Bloomfield Sunday evening accompanied by her parents.

A. Browning made a trip to Nevada City Friday night. Returned Saturday when Mrs. Browning and children accompanied him.

W. E. Moulton made his usual business trip to Marysville Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Browning went to Nevada City Monday.

Mrs. F. S. Wood, Miss Ursula Reader and Mr. Van Horn were Monday visitors.

Miss Frances Moulton, who has been spending her vacation at home for the past two weeks, returned to Sacramento Tuesday. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Moulton, accompanied her on the return trip.

Mr. E. Skinner of Celestial Valley came to French Corral Tuesday. Mr. Skinner is something of a pedestrian, altho he is "not at young as he used to be". He made the trip from Celestial Valley to Dobbins and from Dobbins to French Corral on "Shank's mare" as they used to say.

Don't forget the Big Dance at Log Cabin November 27th.

ROUGH AND READY JOTS

ROUGH and READY, Nov. 23, (Special to The Nugget)— A call for help to fight fire was sent to the American Legion from here Thursday evening and a large number of the boys responded. The fire started from some burning brush and had uch a start, that it was everal miles long and was burning on both sides of Deer Creek. During the afternoon the building of Edward Wilson and John Weyl were in danger but were saved by the efforts of friends and neighbors. Late in the evening the Beck ranch was completely surrounded and Mrs. Frances Reeves sent out a call for help. The fire was also raging on the Gilhan ranch and also across Deer Creek. The American Legion was represented at all danger points showing that they are ready to answer the call at all hours.

A. E. McCrea, local ditch tender, who has been very ill is slowly improving. Mrs. McBride of Aptos, near Santa Cruz is visiting her son, A. E. McCrea.

Mrs. Dave Kyler of Lime Kiln and Mrs. Fred Beyer of Clear Creek have returned to their home afte spending a a few days here, owing to the serious illness of their brother, A. E. McCrea.

The dance given at Penn Valley for the purpose of buying a piano for the Rough and Ready school was a financial success.

Mr. Frank West, wife and daughter, Della, spent Sunday in Sacramento, on business. They were accompanied by R. L. Capps and wife.

An accident occurred here last night when a truck driven by Philip Personini and a sedan driven by Cecil Wasley collided. Mrs. Wasley was badly cut about the face and mouth, while Personini's back and ribs were injured. So far no one seems to know just what caused the accident or who was to blame. Mrs. Wasley and son were taken to the home of George Howe and kept until Dr. Jones could get to the scene of the accident.

Mrs J.ohn McGonigal, Jr., has returned to her home in Smartsville. She has been taking care of A. E. McCrea during his recent illness.

Mrs. Al Wheaton of Marysville and daughter, Mrs. Art Spencer, of Hammonton spent Wednesday here with Mr. and Mrs. A. E. McCrea.

Several of the children of the local school have been vaccinated recently, also a few of the grown-

Supervisor Frank is hauling gravel and doing considerable work on the cross road between Fernley and the Tahoe Ukiah highway. The road is very bad in winter but owing to the work that is being done at present, it should be in good shape by the time the rainy season starts.

George Single, and family, who were former residents here, but for the past ten moths have resided in Sacramento, where he was employed as a mechanic for the Shell Oil Co. He has been transferred to Woodland, where he and his family will make their home.

FROM OUR READERS

Editor Nugget— I have been a constant reader of The Nugget since its first publication up until this last issue. It is a wonderful little paper for a weekly. Am sending $2.00 to subscribe for a year. Mrs. K. Sullivan at French Corral, which is my home takes The Nugget but I am not home now so will have you send it direct to me

I being a strong member of the San Juan Ridge Water User's Association, am sending a poem, to cheer the Ridge Folks up, so hope you will publish it.

Hoping future success to The Nugget,

Yours Respectfully,
J. M. Swazey.

We'll Bring the Old Ridge Back Again

By J. M. Swazey

The San Juan Ridge is losing it's splendor
All it's fields of velvet green,
Lack of water, it's offender
The outlook seems might lean.

Hard and dry the ground is lying
Affairs are looking pretty bad;
Wells and springs are slowly drying
'Tis enough to drive the ranchers mad.

A summer's work all went asunder
The Nid was partly to blame;
Made a silly little blunder
Showed it was a take away game.

But we'll fight the battle side by side
And get that water, just the same,
All though our efforts are defied
We'll beat'em yet, just watch our game.

The end of the first quarter of the 1929-30 indoor horseshoe pitching tournament finds the Native Sons occupying the top roost with the Odd Fellows and Colombo squeezing each other on the second rung and Court Garfield taking everything that goes with the lowest perch.

Last week the N. .S G. W. outfit went on a winning spree at the expense of Court Garfield and Corte Colombo showed a flash of their last year's form by taking the Odd Fellows into camp two games to one.

The average pitching this year seems to have improved over last year. Many more ringers are being scored by the players and the players losing one week are just as apt to be the high point men of the following week.

Last Monday's games:

Eddy and Hallett, Native Sons, defeated Rore and Jeffrey, Court Garfield, 50 to 40;

M. Chapman and White, Nativo Sons, defeated Sandow and Lotz, Court Garfield, 52 to 19;

Baker and Coughlin, Native Sons, defeated Foss and R. Leonard, Court Garfield, 51 18;

High scores: Coughlin, 36; Hallett, 34; White, 33.

Ringers: Coughlin, 9; Hallett, 8; White, 5; Jeffrey, 4.

Tuesday's scores:

B. Zugnoni and J. Zugnoni, Corte Coombo, defeated Seaman, Zanocco and Haddy, Odd Fellows, 51 to 26;

Arbogast and Carlson, Odd Fellows, defeated Margaroli and Fradelizio, Corte Colombo, 51 to 22;

V. Giani and P. Giani, Corte Colombo, defeated Boughman and Rickard, Odd Fellows, 50 to 45;

High Scores: B. Zugnoni, 35; Carlson, 29; Boughman, 27; V. Giani, 27.

Ringers: B. Zugnoni, 8; Boughman, 7; V. Giani, 6; Carlson, 5; P. Giani, 4.

There will be no games this week, the players being granted a respite through Thanksgiving week The next games will be on December 2 and 3.

MRS CURNOW—FORTIER TOURNAMENT WINNERS

Tabulating of the scores in the Elks bridge tournament completed last Tuesday night showed Mrs. May Curnow of Grass Valley leading the field in the ladies' division and stalwart John J. Fortier in the men's section. John bore his honor blushingly but survived the ordeal. Mrs. Curnow triumphed over Mrs. Margaret Dickeman, the runner-up by the narrow margin of 18 points. Mrs. Dickerman was unable to get her scoring machine clicking regularly as she had been leading by a comfortable margin previously.

The tournament will be resumed next week Tuesday evening for two nights with two nights following the Christmas season. Play this week was postponed owing to the Lions ladies' night at Grass Valley tomorrow night.
